that fit your needs and concerns.

CHEMICAL PEELS

Chemical peels are a quick and effective way to achieve a brighter, smoother, more youthful-looking complexion.

A professionally applied chemical peel will speed up the skin's cellular turnover and result in numerous benefits such as:

Evens out pigmentation to freshen and brighten skin

Gently exfoliates to smooth skin and fine lines

Aids in the reduction of hyperpigmentation and sun damage

Reduces the appearance of pores and light acne scarring

Aids in the treatment and prevention of acne

Chemical peels are very convenient, quick and safe for all skin types with very little downtime.

PRICING

Prices for cosmetic procedures will vary depending on the type of treatment performed.

All cosmetic services (laser, chemical peels and products) offered by Tryon Medical Partners are considered elective.

Payment by the patient or responsible party is due at the time of treatment.

CUTERA LASER

Cutera Excel V is a laser that is used to treat photodamage caused by sun exposure, as well as other skin discolorations.

This noninvasive procedure will reduce signs of sun damage, red veins, rosacea, angiomas, and other red and brown lesions of the face, neck, chest and hands.

This laser technology can also help to improve your overall complexion with minimal downtime.

Patients may see reduction after one treatment, although most patients will need maintenance treatments for best results.

The Cutera Excel V has a cooling system for effective yet comfortable treatments. You should be able to return to normal activities soon after your treatment.

VBEAM LASER

VBeam is a pulsed-dye laser that is used to treat vascular lesions of the face, neck and torso.

This noninvasive procedure will reduce facial spider veins, rosacea, angiomas and other undesirable red discolorations. The gentle and effective burst of light can also help to rejuvenate your complexion.

Patients may see reduction after one treatment, although some vascular conditions require maintenance treatments.

The VBeam has a cooling system for effective and comfortable treatments. The downtime is minimal and you should be able to return to normal activities soon after your treatment.
